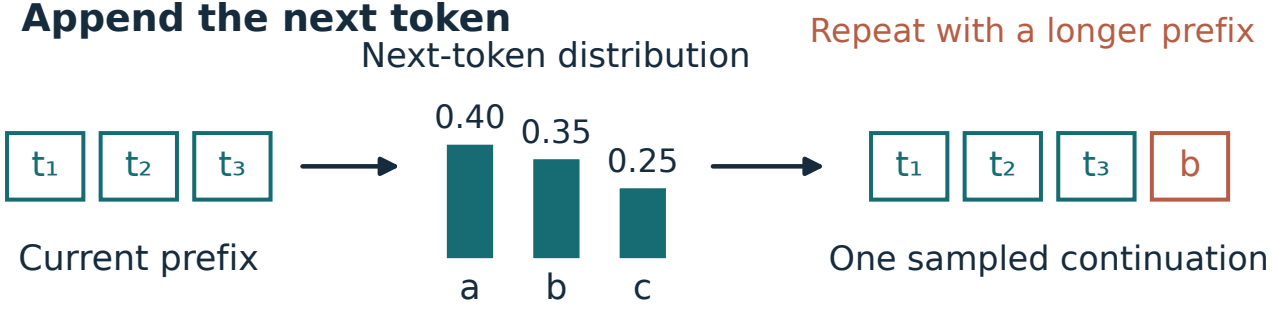
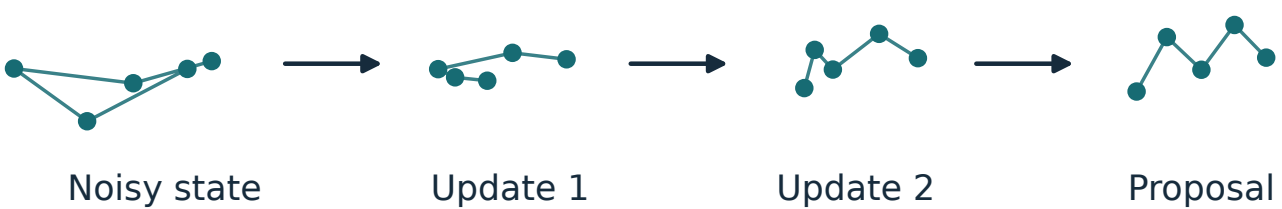
Two mechanisms for proposing an object

A Append the next token



B Refine a noisy representation



A learned update can use a specified condition c

Abstract token and point examples, not a protein simulation

Training teaches the update rule; sampling applies that rule